Christmas Sale and Coffee Supper.

Success from every point of view marked the efforts of the Ladies' Charitable society of St. Mary's parish at their annual Christmas sale and coffee supper conducted in their assembly rooms on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening, the proceeds of which will go towards relieving the needy poor of the parish and serve to gladden their hearts at this festal period.

The assembly rooms were handsomely decorated for the occasion with palms, evergreen, and red, white and blue bunting, thanks for which is due The Porteous & Mitchell Co. for the use of the decorations. The decorative committee, which showed such taste and judgment, comprised Mrs. Edward J. Brophy, Mrs. Thomas P. McCune, Miss Mary E. Hartie, Florence Driscoll and Cornellüs J. Downes. The ice cream table was conducted by Miss Catherine Buckley and Mrs. John H. Humphrey; cake, Mrs. Mary Cunntngham; domestic table and fancy work, Mrs. Edward J. Brophy, Mrs. Jeremiah F. Healey and Mrs. James Sullivan; doll mooth, Mrs. Thomas P. McCune, Mrs. Charles J. Mullaney, Mrs. Peter H. Ethier; candy, Mrs. Elizabeth McCormick, Mrs. William Daley and Mrs. James J. O'Donovan, The grab bag was in charge of Mrs. John Brophy, while Francis J. Murtha, Jr., amused all in the role of Santa Claus dispensing his gifts.

The dolls and all the articles offered for sale were donated by the members of the society. The sale continued on both evenings until 9 o'clock, everything being closed out. On Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 7.30 o'clock the organization served a bountiful coffee supper, to which 300 sat down. Further thanks from the organization is due truck company No. 2 and Mrs. Stewart Murray, who kindly provided the tables for the repast. The waitresses serving in this department were Mrs. James McCune, Mrs. John Driscoll, Mrs. William Sharkey, Mrs. James Purdon, Mrs. Arthur E. Henry, Mrs. Patrick Coughlin, and the Misses Nora Hartie. Mary Coughlin, and the Gallagher had charge of the ticket of fice on both days.

The following articles were awarded: A handsome doll to Mrs. Louis Ensier, 450 Main street, city and two fascinators, one to Miss Julia Wholey of Fourth street, and the other to Mrs. Thomas Driscoll of North Main street, the lucky numbers being drawn from the receptacle by Master Thomas McCorinick. A special treat for the occasion were plane selections rendered by the Misses Marie Mullaney and Alice Gadle, for which they were heartly encored.

The success of the affair was due

The success of the affair was due in no small degree to the efforts of the zealous president of the organization.

Miss Marie E. Hartie, who received generous assistance from the other members of the organization.

There was a large attendance at the evangelistic service in the Third Baptist church Friday evening, and an able and interesting address on "A Whole Christ for the Whole Man, for the Whole World, was given by Mrs. E. R. Leger. Mrs. Leger will speach at morning and evening services on Sunday. Mr, Leger, a gospel singer, is expected to be present.

There was a meeting of the Father Mathew T. A. society in their rooms, in Carpenter's hall, Thursday evening, with President Joseph Bellefleur in the chair. Routine business was transacted and two new members were initiated.

side on the Maples farm.

The regiments were being moved gradually to the south, news of the Ninth being received at Ship Island, off the southern coast, and the Eleventh being ordered to go to Annapolis. New companies were forming here to fill the regiments which are incomplete and at the camping grounds the companies were all in excellent spirits and making the best of their inactivity. Supplies were being forwarded from time to time, and a new organization to assist the Soldiers' Aid society was formed at Yantic. Officers were receiving promotions and there was interest in the coming state convention of the republicans.

Satisfied With Camp Life.

The following items taken from The Bulletin of fifty years ago corresponding to the past week give the chief matters of local interest noted:

Dec. 11, 1861—Edmund J. Appleby, who enlisted in Lieut. John Griswold's company, Thirteenth C. V., committed suicide on the 7th inst. by drowning. The cause was mental derangement. He was 23 years old and leaves a wife and child.

this city in the Eleventh regiment at Hartford lacks but four or five of the maximum number. Company K of the Hartford lacks but four or five of the maximum number. Company K of the Twelfth regiment is in charge of Lieutenant Abbott. The men are very comfortable in their Sibley tents and perfectly satisfied with camp life. Eight more men for this company will go to Hartford this afternoon. The Norwich company for the Thirteenth now numbers 30 men. Under command of Lieutenant McCord, this company bids fair to be the crack Norwich company.

Two youthful military companies from New London made a short visit to this city yesterday. One company, the Continentals, from Mr. Marsh's school, was in command of Captain Caulkins and dressed in true Continental style. The second company, from Mr. Fuller's school, under Captoin King, were called the Star company.

Concerning the favoring of the New London harbor for steamship lines by J. P. Morgan, Jr., Mayor Mahan said that he was not at all surprised at the praise bestowed, for he was well aware of the fact that J. P. Morgan, Sr., was very much interested in the development of New London as a steamship terminal, on account of its superiority over any harbor on the coast.

"New London's harbor," said Mayor Mahan, "is practically ready for business, while it would take millions to construct an artificial harbor at Montauk. Breakwaters of the most substantial kind would have to be built there at enormous expense, and even then, in severe storms, with the wind from certain directions, the boats would be at the mercy of the sea."

A prominent New London man while in this city this week stated that he was doubtful if the million-dollar improvement was ever made in New London. It will certainly not be started, he said, until there is a certainty that a line of steamers will come there. He thought the improvement a remote possibility.
